

California and Oregon Railroad

Logo Unavailable

California and Oregon Railroad

In 1868, Congress passed an act to construct a railroad connecting California and Oregon. The California and Oregon Railroad Company was designated to build it from Marysville, California to Portland, Oregon

Daily Alta California (January 24, 1870): Two to three hundred Chinese were employed in Marysville for the California and Oregon Railroad Company.

<https://cdnc.ucr.edu/cgi-bin/cdnc?a=d&d=DAC18681021.2.25>